

Marsh Award for Conservation Biology Winners

- 2022 John Gittleman
For outstanding contributions to ecology and conservation biology
- 2021 Kate Jones
for outstanding contributions to conservation science, including biodiversity monitoring and zoonotic disease
- 2020 Rosie Woodroffe
for outstanding contributions to behavioural ecology, human-wildlife conflict and wildlife disease
- 2019 Michael Bruford
for outstanding contributions to conservation genetics
- 2018 Steffen Opiel
for outstanding contributions to the ecology and conservation of birds
- 2017 Susan Cheyne
for outstanding contributions to the conservation of primates and carnivores
- 2016 Richard Griffiths for outstanding contributions to the conservation of amphibians and reptiles
- 2015 Stephen Redpath for outstanding contributions to human-wildlife conflict
- 2014 Ben Collen
for high-impact research on biodiversity monitoring, conservation science and informing policy
- 2013 Debbie Pain
for outstanding contributions to our understanding of ecotoxicology, and the ecology and conservation of birds
- 2012 Dave Goulson

for significant contributions to our understanding of bumblebee biology, ecology and conservation

- 2011 Jane Hill for contributions to the understanding of the effects of habitat degradation and climate change on insect distribution and abundance
- 2010 Paul Donald for outstanding contributions to ecological fieldwork and conservation
- 2009 Ana Rodrigues
for significant contributions to a broad range of scientific areas in the field of conservation science.
- 2008 Isabelle Côté
for research on tropical coastal ecosystems, particularly coral reefs, and the use of meta-analysis to tackle broad-scale ecological questions.
- 2007 Stuart Butchart
for the development of an influential new index to measure trends in the status of threatened bird populations
- 2006 Sarah Wanless
for long-term research into the ecology and conservation of nesting sea birds
- 2005 Bill Sutherland
for extensive contributions to evidence-based conservation
- 2004 Chris Thomas
for his work on butterflies, which has had a major impact on their conservation
- 2003 Stuart Pimm
for his contribution to conservation biology
- 2002 Callum Roberts
for his contribution to marine conservation
- 2001 Eleanor Jane Milner-Gulland for her contribution to conservation biology
- 2000 Andrew Balmford
for his contribution to conservation biology.
- 1999 John Croxall
for his contribution to avian conservation.
- 1998 Peter S Maitland
for his outstanding contribution to aquatic conservation.
- 1997 Rhys E Green

for excellent research on practical issues in bird conservation.

1996 Jeremy A Thomas

for his outstanding work in conservation ecology and in particular for his classic study on the conservation of the large blue butterfly and the way that he has underpinned this work with excellent science.

1995 John D Goss-Custard

for his outstanding contributions to the understanding of shore bird populations and to the management and conservation of these birds and their habitat.

1994 Ian Newton

for laying secure foundations for the conservation of birds through his distinguished studies of their life history and population dynamics.

1993 Georgina M Mace

for building links between fundamental ecology and its practical applications in conservation.

1992 Derek A Ratcliffe

for his work on bird conservation and for his role in the discovery of the effects of pesticides on wild populations.

1991 Robert M May

for distinguished contributions to population biology and ecology and more generally to understanding of the properties of non-linear systems.
